

TV closed captioning is not working for me at the local level. News and weather continue to be sporadically captioned. I am better off using the internet than TV because it is text based. I also find that my local PBS outlet is unable to show the captions for national PBS shows four or five times a year. Fortunately, I have access to an out of state PBS stations that always shows captions for national PBS shows. Finally, I find it troubling that most cable TV shows remain uncaptioned.
